

Redeem-Her is a collective of women who have been in prison. We are completely committed to helping each other to become valued members of our community. We are also committed to giving back to the women who are where we have been.

Through our Your Closet program we distribute thousands of clothing and personal hygiene items to incarcerated and recently released women.

Right now, there is a critical shortage of bras in the facilities that we serve. Many women write that they do not even have a single bra. Redeem-Her seeks to meet these women's immediate need through our "We Support You" campaign.

We are asking women in the community to reach to the back of their own drawers and pull out that bra that you never wear ... you know the one that pinches here, itches there or flat out doesn't fit anywhere. (Everybody's got at least a couple, right? ☺) Put it in a Ziploc bag with the size clearly marked on the outside in permanent marker.

And because sharing a bra with someone is a pretty intimate thing, we are also asking you to enclose a short note of encouragement letting the recipient of your bra know that they are valued as a woman, that you believe in them and their ability to succeed and that you welcome them back into the community and look forward to what they will contribute.

We thank you for your care and concern and your partnership with us.

We are also in need of new women's underwear and personal care items like toothpaste, soap, shampoo, sanitary pads, etc.
