

Redeem-Her presents Simply But Classy Websites. Now, your business, your organization, your church, or even your family can have a presence on the World-Wide-Web. And best of all, you can do it easily and affordably, while making a difference in the life of a woman coming out of prison.

Simple But Classy Websites brings together Internet professionals, who can accomplish all your website goals—and even help you establish what those goals might be—while mentoring a woman in the process. In the end, you end up with a Simple But Classy Website, reliable and easy to update on your own, and a woman gets a chance to learn how to someday run her own entrepreneurial effort in website design.

For your business:

- Give your business a presence on the web, allowing your customers to browse through information about your products and your expertise, and even make purchases with a credit card—24 hours a day.
- Jumpstart your company into the 21st century!

For your organization:

- Tighten the bonds of your organization, by providing 24 hour information, calendar of events, and self maintaining sign-up lists.

For your family:

- Update your friends and extended family—they really do want to know how you're doing, hear about the latest happenings and see your recent photos. We give you the way to do this at your leisure, with simple tools with which to keep your family's website up to date.
